

Elizabeth K. Shoenfeld is a Senior Assistant Bar Counsel for the Virginia State Bar, where she investigates and prosecutes bar complaints. Prior to joining the bar in 2015, she practiced civil litigation defense, primarily representing auto manufacturers defending product liability claims, for 12 years. Ms. Shoenfeld has a bachelor's degree from Penn State University and a law degree from the William & Mary School of Law. She is the mother of two tween girls and an elderly cocker spaniel, as well as a three-time marathon finisher.