

John Katz is the Deputy Associate General Counsel at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). In his role at FERC, he is responsible for providing legal and policy advice to the Commission's Office of Energy Projects, which takes a lead role in carrying out the Commission's responsibility for siting infrastructure projects including licensing, administration, and safety of non-federal hydropower projects. He received a bachelor's degree in English Language and Literature/Letters from Colgate University. He holds a J.D. from Duke University School of Law.