

Martin Toulouse has 25 years of experience providing legal and strategic advice to public and private companies and investors on energy and infrastructure transactions worldwide. Focused on the energy transition and the deployment and financing of innovative technologies to decarbonize the economy. Experience extends to renewable energy, conventional power generation, distributed generation and storage, transmission, retail energy, renewable fuels, oil & gas (upstream, midstream, LNG and downstream), mining and rail transportation. Proven ability to lead multi-disciplinary teams and manage multi-stakeholder negotiations in complex domestic and cross-border transactions.