

Louise Anne is a Vice President at Emera, an energy holding company with 2.5 million customers and operating businesses in Canada, the US and the Caribbean. She joined Emera in 2016 as VP Integration, leading the integration of TECO, a US$10B acquisition, into the Emera family. As VP Customer Development, Louise Anne focused on consumer-centric growth opportunities including the negotiation of a $650M deal to purchase AMI meters for several Emera operating companies. Most recently, Louise Anne has focused on supporting growth at BlockEnergy, an innovative new energy business launched by Emera to capitalize on disruptive opportunities in today's energy industry.

Louise Anne has a 20+ year track record of strategic guidance, business development and delivery of complex transactions and new businesses across diverse markets. Prior to joining Emera, she was founder and C.E.O. of a boutique strategic growth consultancy with clients including Virgin Airways (UK), Swire Properties (Hong Kong), LG Electronics (Korea), Philips (Holland) and Coca-Cola (USA). Previously, Louise Anne worked with Bombardier as Director of European Strategy and Business Development for the regulated aerospace business. Louise Anne started her career as a mergers & acquisitions lawyer practicing in Toronto, New York and London.

An active member of her community, Louise Anne recently completed her term as Chair of the Board of Governors of NSCAD University and sits on the Board of Directors of the Halifax Convention Center and the Advisory Council for the David Sobey Centre for Innovation at St Mary's University. She has spoken on such topics as corporate growth, innovation and global consumer trends.
